

Course Syllabi

1. DERE-00016 ECUADORIAN LEGISLATION

2. 48 credits hours.

3. Bibliography

- <https://visorweb.utpl.edu.ec/library/publication/sociedad-cultura-y-derecho>, Borja Cevallos, Rodrigo, 2007
- <https://bibliotecadigital.uce.edu.ec/s/L-D/item/1785#?c=&m=&s=&cv=>, Borja Cevallos, Rodrigo, 1971
- https://redbibliotecas.quito.gob.ec/cgi-bin/koha/opac-detail.pl?biblionumber=56968&shelfbrowse_itemnumber=87355, Simon, Farith, 2017
- <https://www.uasb.edu.ec/publicacion/carta-magna-y-nuevo-constitucionalismo-latinoamericano-ruptura-o-continuisimo/>, Storini, Claudia, 2017
- https://www.oas.org/juridico/pdfs/mesicic4_ecu_const.PDF, Legislación Nacional, 2008

4. Specific Course Information

- Industrial Legislation is the set of rules that govern the relations derived from the relationship of man with the production of goods and services to meet human needs. The regulations allow the relationship of the subjects with the industry to be in accordance with the current regulations of the Country and other international agreements, that guarantee the implementation and use of the most optimal processes and procedures for the well-being of the society, seeking the reduction of labor risks, and The students will know the organization of the state, and the most important aspects of the branches of law that have an intimate relationship with the production processes, so that the vision of the industry is not far from the legal framework and state structure that governs in our country. Thus allowing the students to integrate the norms analyzed with the occupational safety and health in the work environment in order to improve the conditions and well-being at work in full the current legislation; thanks to the fact that students will be able to select in a better way the methods, procedures for the well-being of the human being involved in the productive process.
- Corequisites:
 - CSCO-00120 HUMAN TALENT MANAGEMENT
 - CSCO-00119 GENERAL ECONOMICS
- Prerequisites:
 - EDCA-00225 COST ACCOUNTING AND PRODUCTION BUDGETS

5. Learning Objectives of the Course

- To know the norms that regulate the relationship of the human being with the industry.
 - To know the form of social organization that governs in Ecuador, and the forms of government
 - To know the importance and necessity of application of the law in the relations with the industry and production
 - To allow students to integrate to their knowledge the main branches of the law that have direct connection with the industrial process
 - To minimize the risks to which the industrial activity is exposed in the labor, environmental and penal sectors.
 - Provide basic tools for students to know the minimum requirements to achieve well-being and safety of the people involved in the productive process
- Learning Outcomes

- To know the rules governing the employment relationship within the productive process.
- Know the corporate and intellectual property rules applicable to industry.
- To know the form of social organization of Ecuador, and the form of government.
- Knowing the environmental standards that govern the industry
- To know that the submission of the state and its members to the law is a sine qua non condition for coexistence in society
- Know the penal rules that may be directly related to industry.

6. Course Topics

- Status and law
- Labour law
- Environmental law
- Competition law
- Intellectual property law
- Criminal law